This week we hear from Rachel Morgan-Jones at Cumberland Netball Club in Camden, learning all about the growth of London's biggest Netball club

Describe your club in 3 words

Family, Excellence, Respect

What would you like to shout about?

This year is Cumberland's 20th anniversary! The club has grown dramatically since being founded in 2000, now consisting of 19 teams to become London's biggest Netball club. We have a total of 13 senior teams, across North London, Essex Met, Middlesex, Surrey and Kingston Leagues. Cumberland offers playing at all levels, from our Gold team founded to help adult players come back from maternity or injury, to Cumberland Prem team currently playing in Premier 1.

Growing the future of Netball through our Junior teams has been a huge focus for us, currently with 6 competitive Junior teams. Cumberland saw an amazing +500% increase in Juniors trialling for Cumberland U16 teams versus the previous season. To ensure netball is growing in North London, we also have a train only squad to ensure that young netballers who aren't playing competitively for Cumberland still have a chance to play and get access to coaching and training.

Currently you can watch two Cumberland Prem players in the Vitality Superleague: Kira Rothwell (London Pulse & England Roses) and Aliyah Zaranyika (Mavericks & England Roses).

What's next for Cumberland?

We're looking to focus on developing key pathways for Cumberland players to grow throughout the club from Juniors all the way through to Seniors, and hopefully competitive Superleague & England Roses level as well.
